

Street workout, calisthenic, crosstraining All of these styles include the exercise with your own weight. STX Line is functional indoor wall. Stedyx makes length, sizes and accessories according to your needs.

► Powder finish colors ► Optional accessories ► Basic length 4m

STX Line is functional indoor fitness equipment and it is fixed to the wall and ground. Perfect solution for inner gym. Especially since you can build muscle just as effectively using your own body weight as you can by lifting some iron. All you really need is something to push on or pull on and a little open space where you can move your body and activate all the muscles you want to training indoors. Contact us for more information.

We produce whole range of lengths and modules for STX line. You can extend the line any time you want because all parts are compatible.

We offer any color you want in powder finish coating for long life of your fitness equipment.

